Goodbye Address

GAETANO MANFREDI

President, CRUI - The Conference of Italian University Vice-Chancellors

30th June 2017

Thank you Alberto for the great organization. Thank you very much for everything, for all the great work in the last two days, for the ideas that we have developed.

I think that these have been two good days for the university in the world. I think that our future is based on the capacity that we have to include all of society in this process, based on competences, on knowledge, on the capacity to include all the people in this process. I hope that these two days will be the first step for a new future for the world.

Thanks a lot to all of you.
